The SOUTH-CAROLINA Gazette.

LONDON, October 5.

IF we may depend upon private advices from Spain, some great design that has been long upon the carpet is on the point of execution; three squadrons being fitting out at Ferrol, Cadiz, and Carthagena, all the troops in the kingdom having orders to hold themselves ready to march on 3 days notice, and very large remittances made to the courts of Naples and Parma. Some think that all this is done in concert with the court of Versailles; while others are of opinion, that the new treaty with the house of Austria is not very acceptable to the Spanish ministry, or to a court that might be mentioned in Italy.

By various letters it appears, that admiral Hawke has absolutely landed all the prisoners he has taken at Ciudadella, on the island of Minorca, which place has been some time in the greatest distress for all kinds of provisions.

An express sailed last week with dispatches for Gibraltar, from whence he is to proceed without delay to meet admiral Hawke.

The fleet equipping for admiral Knowles will sail some time this month: and, for the greater dispatch, the several ships are ordered to sail to a certain latitude as soon as ready.

We hear that the right hon. the lord chief justice Willes has resigned, and that the hon. Mr. Noel is to succeed him.

Paris, Oct. 4 We hear that M. de la Galissoniere is seized with a dropsy in the breast, and that M. de Massiac has taken the command of the Toulon squadron.

London, Oct. 7. This day a court of aldermen was held at Guildhall, when Matthe Dickinson, Esq; and Sir Charles Asgill, knt. were returned by the sheriffs in the said court, who made choice of Matthe Dickinson, Esq; to serve the office of lord mayor of this city for the year ensuing, and he was accordingly declared duly elected Wagers have been offered, That the king of Prussia will keep his Christmas at Vienna.

From the LONDON GAZETTE.

DRESDEN, October 2

WE received this day about noon the news of a victory the king of Prussia has gained over the Austrians. The king of Prussia was posted in the neighbourhood of a village called Welmina, with an army of about 35,000 men, and marshal Brown was between that place and Lowositz, with his whole army, amounting, it is said, to near 60,000 men. The action, which began at 7 o'clock in the morning, was obstinate and bloody; but about noon, the whole Austrian army retreated, and left the Prussians masters of the field of battle; and, as they went thro' Lowositz, set fire to the suburbs, to stop the Prussians in their pursuit. It is thought the Austrians have lost about 4000 men, and the Prussians half that number.

Berlin, Oct. 3. This morning, about 7 o'clock, an officer in the guards, arrived here from the Prussian camp in Bohemia, in 39 hours: He had no letters from any body, but only a short note to the queen mother, wrote by the king himself on the field of battle, acquainting her majesty with his having gained a compleat victory over the Austrians, which cost him 2000 men. The particulars that have been collected from the officer, are, that on the 30th of September, the king of Prussia's army moved from their camp at Aussig; that when they came to the ground they were to occupy that night, they perceived some tents pitched, which they took to be an advanced guard, or some small out party of Austrians; but that his Prussian majesty had the precaution to make his army remain under arms all night; and, early in the morning, the 1st of October, observed some motions among the enemy, which very soon shewed that the whole Austrian army were preparing to attack him. That the king of Prussia made the proper dispositions, according to his ground; and, about 7 in the morning, the Austrians attacked, with great fury, the left wing of the Prussians, and the action continued very hot, till half an hour past one, when the Austrians gave way, but retired in good order; and, to cover their retreat, burnt the town of Lowositz, in which they had a magazine. The number of the Austrians under marshal Brown are said to be about 60 000, and the Prussian army from 35 to 40 000 only, by reason of several detachments left to guard the passes in the mountains, and on the Elbe. The king had under him, his royal highness the prince of Prussia, prince Ferdinand of Brunswic, and marshal Keith, having left his brothers the princes Henry and Ferdinand, with many other general officers, in his camp at Sedlitz. A distinct relation of the action is daily expected. [Past for the Lon Gaz.]

RATISBON, October 4.

THE minister from the king of Prussia, as elector of Brandenburgh, has declared to the ministers of the several states of the empire residing at the diet, that as the measures that have been taken oblige the king his master to throw off all restraint with respect to the discoveries which he had made of the intentions of the courts of Vienna and Dresden, his Prussian majesty would very soon produce the proofs that were come to his hands, of the plan laid by those two courts for the subversion of his electoral house, and for imposing upon him the yoke, which seem'd at the same time to threaten the rest of the empire.

London, Oct 12. His royal highness the prince of Wales's household is establishing, and will very speedily be declared.

London, Oct 14. Admiral Knowles will not wait for the equipment of the Union, but will sail in another ship, and be followed by that as soon as ready. Warrants are now delivering to the officers of the Union at the admiralty.

We can assure the public, that the empress of Russia has declared she will take no step prejudicial to the king of Prussia.

Private letters from the Hague advise that the Prussian army, consisting of 35,000 men, having encamped on the 30th of last month near Trebolitz, General Brown advanced from Budin with 50 000 men, resolved not to let slip so fair an opportunity of attacking an enemy not only inferior in point of numbers, but excessively fatigued by three forced marches, and the labour of throwing up intrenchments to cover their camp. He marched his army so near the Prussians, that he gave them a general fire, which his Prussian majesty (who had joined his army two days before) ordered his troops to receive; and making a quick advance upon the Austrians, returned their fire, and put them into such confusion, that they retired precipitately to their camp, from whence the king forced them. At some little distance they rallied; but the Prussians attacked them with such resolution, that they were routed a second time, and fled in great confusion. It is supposed that all the cannon, tents, baggage, &c. of the Austrians, are fallen into the hands of the conqueror, who, it is not doubted, will make the best use of his victory.

The billet wrote by the king of Prussia to the queen his mother, consisted of these few words only, as we are informed: October 1. This morning I gave battle to the Austrians. Great generalship was displayed on both sides, and the fate of the day was doubtful for several hours; but at last it pleased God to give us the victory.

London

London, October 19. There has been the greatest hurricane all along the coast of Holland that ever was known; above 60 ships of different nations are stranded or lost; amongst them a Dutch man of war and East-Indiaman.

At Hamburgh, the damage has been so great, that hardly any of the ships there escaped.

The time limited by his majesty's order in council, for prohibiting the exporting out of the kingdom, or carrying coastwise, gunpowder, saltpetre, or any sort of arms or ammunition, expiring the 29th, his majesty has been pleased to order it to be continued six months longer.

They write from Leipsick of the 4th instant, that on the 2d Te Deum was sung in the Prussian army, under a triple discharge of cannon and small arms; and that the king himself gave the following text for the sermon on that occasion: P. Psalm 20. 6. Now know I, that the Lord saveth his anointed: he will hear him from his holy heaven, with the saving strength of his right hand.

Other letters from Leipsick, dated the 9th, say, that from the 2d or 3d to the 6th, divers movements had been made in the king of Poland's camp, the drift of which was not yet well known; but they reckon they shall be able to give us a clear account of them next post.

CHARLES-TOWN, Dec 30.

On Saturday last the Privateer Brigt. Pliny, Capt. Stoddard, brought in here a rich St. Domingo Ship bound for Bourdeaux, of 200 Tons, laden with Indico, Coffee, Sugars, &c. which she took on the 23d ult off Bermuda: She is called La Complaisance, François le Bran Commander, had a Letter of Mart, and came out from Cape François in Company with 35 other rich Ships, under Convoy of 4 Men of War who were to go home with them. Capt. Stoddard fell in 5 Sail of the Fleet, but as they all steer'd different Courses as soon as they perceived the Privateer, no other fell to his Lot but the Complaisance.

The Privateer Brigt. Johnson, Capt. Grigg, of New York, in Company with a small Antigua Privateer, has taken and carried into St. Kitt's, a French Ship of 600 Tons, 24 Guns, and 70 Men, from Marseilles for Martinique, laden with Wine, Oil, Soap, Candles, dry Goods, Powder, and warlike Stores, called Nostra Segnora La Conception de St. Francisco. Capt Cook, in another New York Privateer, (Consort of Capt Stoddard) has also carried into St. Kitt's, a French Privateer Schooner.

Brother Martyn, Rector of St. Andrew's Parish. After Divine Service, the Procession returned to their Brother Gordon's, where they dined elegantly to the number of 120, and spent the Remainder of the Day in a Manner peculiar to the Brotherhood. Most of the Vessels in the Harbour did Honour to the Day, by displaying their Colours, firing of Guns, &c.

The same Day returned from a Cruize, His Majesty's Ship Winchelsea, commanded by John Hale, Esq; On the 4th instant, Capt. Hale took a Passage Boat laden with Bricks, from Cape François for Port Dauphin, which the French ransomed; on the 6th, he also took Le Don d'Ouvire, Mathurin Fayard Master, a large Snow from Quebec for the Cape; and on the 9th, he chased a large Ship, of 12 6-Pounders, and 80 Men, into the very Harbour of the Cape, quite under the Cannon of some of the Forts, where he battered her some Time, in View of a great Body of Spectators, and did considerable Damage to her Hull, Sails and Rigging: The same Ship had before engaged an English Privateer, 100 Leagues off the Land, when the first Captain had his Head shot off, and several of the Crew were killed and wounded.

On Tuesday put into this Port, the Sloop Mary-Anne, Robert Salmon Master, from London for Boston.

The same Day arrived here Capt. Tucker, in 15 Days from Bermuda, who, as he came out, spoke with a Snow going in, that had been taken by a French Privateer Schooner, which had taken so many English Vessels, 30 Leagues to the Eastward of that Island, that they were obliged to give the said Snow to the Prisoners to get rid of them. A Person on board the Snow desired Capt. Tucker to make it known here, that David Gifring was taken by the said Privateer.

Yesterday Morning sailed on a Cruize, His Majesty's Snow Jamaica, commanded by Capt. Robert Thompson.
